League of Nations Head Will Lecture in Provo

Dr. Hambro is Exile From Norway

"No peace at all is possible until the totalitarian aggressors are completely defeated." That is the opinion of Dr. C. J. Hambro, president of the Norwegian Parliament and president of the League of Nations assembly, who will speak at the Provo Tabernacle Wednesday, March 8 at 7:45 p. m.

Dr. Hambro was born in Bergen, Norway. While still a student, he began his political life by recreating the Conservative Student League. He has served three times as president of the Norwegian Student Union. Entering newspaper work, he became editor of the conservative "Morgenblad" when the first world war broke out.

Youngest President

In 1918 he was elected a member of the Norwegian Parliament and since 1924 he has been head of the Conservative party, president of Parliament and chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations. He was the youngest man ever to be elected president, and has been reflected more times than any other incumbent of that office. He became president of the League of Nations Assembly in 1939, and chairman of the Supervisory Committee, and continues in those offices for the duration of the war.

Fled to Sweden

When the Germans invaded Norway, Dr. Hambro crossed the border into Sweden, where he helped to serve his country by preventing its gold reserve and its merchant marine from falling into German hands.

Is Author

In the United States, Dr. Hambro wrote the book "The German Invasion in his book." "I Saw it Happen in Norway." He is now carrying on the affairs of Norway and working toward the ultimate aim of peace.

Y Men Leave For West Coast Dental School

Several well-known students of Brigham Young University left last week end for Portland, Oregon, where they will enter the North Pacific College of Dentistry, according to Dr. Vasco M. Tanner, pre-dental advisor. These men, who have been in pre-medical studies at BYU for the past year are: Calvin Hutchings, Clinton Wiers, LaNell Hayward, Charles Hart, Jr., Dean Taylor, Verner Waite, Duane Nelson, Ted Schoppe and Virgil Stucki.

A number of BYU students are now enrolled in this institution, and are doing creditable work. An alumni student, Rulon Johnson, graduated in December, and was chosen valedictorian.

Mr. Sanford Bingham, a member of the faculty also left with the group.

David Campbell, William Shupe, Durrell Leight, Homer Royal, and Nelson Snow, all former students of BYU, who took pre-dental training here, will also enter North Pacific in the freshman class.

amount to much until we have behind it all a determination to base all that we do on cultural and intellectual cooperation. Much is already being done and the conference pointed out many more ways.

The BYU is honored that Dean de Jong was able to represent it at the commemorative ceremonies of the University of New Mexico.

While in Albuquerque, Dr. de Jong saw many of the students of the university who are now navy cadets at the university there.

Freshmen Lose President To Navy V-12

Richard Hales, freshman class president, left last Monday night for Ames, Iowa to start training and study with the V-12 Navy program.

Richard was born February 13, 1926 in Pasadena, California. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Wayne D. Hales who reside at 625 North University avenue.

Richard attended BY high school where he was very active in school life. He excelled in athletics, music and drama. He has studied with awards in all these fields as well as a scholastic award.

Upon coming to the BYU he again took active part in scholastic and extra-curricular activities, being elected freshman class president.

Piano Concerto Is Concert Feature

Rhoda Vaun Call's appearance as soloist with the BYU symphony orchestra in Mendelssohn's Concerto No. 2 in D minor for piano and orchestra, was the main feature on the concert Monday evening.

Rhoda Vaun began her study of the piano at an early age, giving her first recital at the age of six. Since then she has studied with some of the finer teachers of this region and is technically well equipped to play the difficult piano part of the concerto. Her keen musical conception of the work made her performance commendable. The concerto was conducted by Dean Gerrit de Jong, with whom Rhoda Vaun is studying at the present time.

Besides the concerto, the orchestra, under the direction of Professor LeRoy J. Robertson, played the "Fingals Cave Overture," by Mendelssohn and the "First Carmen Suite" by Bizet.

By Elayna Allen

Sales started this week for the 1944 Banyan, which is to be distributed on April 26, according to Ruth England, production editor, Miss England announced the names of her staff members and stated that the first pages have already gone to press.

Those actively working on the staff are: Elaine Waddoups, Jean Bickmore, Ruth Ulrich, Faye Hunter Ann Salisbury and Alice Case. Frank Faux is the photographer, and Bill Smith is cadet editor.

Theme

The theme of the coming Banyan is, "Memories of 1944," and it will be dedicated to the late Professor Robert Sauer.

Consisting of 104 pages of tuxedo paper, bound in magazine form, this year's "Victory mood" Banyan will summarize the activities of Brigham Young University in wartime.

Sales

Miriam Young and Margaret Hales are in charge of the sales campaign. Banyan salesmen can be identified by a blue and white "Banyan" button.

The book will include individual pictures of the senior members of the faculty, group pictures of all the clubs and organizations, and photographs of the school sections.

The first pages have already gone to press and all subscriptions must be made by April first or there will be an additional charge. Snapshots

It is also asked that if any students who are in the Provo tabernacle the campus, events, or students, would turn them in to Ruth England, they might be used in the Banyan.

The cover design or type has not yet been chosen as it is not definite as to what priorities can be obtained.

Young Artist to Play Concert

Claudio Arrau, one of the most brilliant of younger pianists, will give a concert in the Provo tabernacle Thursday evening, March 9. Mr. Arrau, who was born in Chile in 1904, gave his first recital at the age of five. He is impressed in the Chilean government that it undertook to finance his musical education in Europe. He first played in New York in 1941, and his immediate success has made him one of the most sought-after attractions on the concert stage.

Journalists Pass . . .

Two weeks ago American journalism lost two of its best-known men: William Allen White, the venerable and beloved sage of Emporia, Kansas, and the famed columnist and foreign correspondent, Raymond Clapper.

In these times, when freedom of the press is being discussed pro and con, the passing of such staunch supporters of journalism, men who have proved their right to live on in the journalistic hall of fame, is indeed mourned.

We will long remember and respect Raymond Clapper for his unflinching yet humanistic reporting of the news in his nationally syndicated column. We can never forget William Allen White for his sturdy, independent journalism.

In memory of William Allen White, we reprint one of his articles that is of particular interest at this time. (Courtesy ACP)

PUT FEAR OUT

By William Allen White, (1922)

You tell me that law is about freedom of utterance, and I reply that you can have not wise laws nor free enforcement of wise laws unless there is free expression of the wisdom of the people—and alas, their folly with it. But, if there is freedom, folly will die of its own poison, and the wisdom will survive. That is the history of the race. It is the proof of man's kinship with God.

You say that freedom of utterance is not for the time of stress, and I reply with the sad truth that only in time of stress is freedom of utterance in danger. No one questions it in calm days, because it is not needed. And the reverse is true also: only when free utterance is suppressed is it needed, and when it is needed it is most vital to justice. Peace is good. But if you are interested in peace through force and without free discussion—that is to say, free utterance decently and in order—your interest in justice is slight. And peace without justice is tyranny, no matter how you may sugar-coat it with expediency. This state today is in more danger from suppression than from violence, because in the end suppression leads to violence; indeed it is the child of suppression. Whoever pleads for justice helps to keep the peace, and whoever tramples upon the plea for justice, temporarily made in the name of peace, only outrages peace and kills something fine in the heart of man which God put there when we got our manhood. When that is killed brute meete brute on each side of the line.

So, dear friend, put fear out of your heart. This Nation will survive, this State will prosper, the orderly business of life will go forward if only men can speak in whatever way given them to utter what their hearts hold—by voice, by posted card, by letter, or by press. Reason never has failed men. Only force and oppression have made the wrecks in the world.

Straight . . . From the Grave

by Bill and Dave

Since the Prom is over, and the boys in the pretty blue uniforms have gone back whence they came (much to Horsfall's delight), we will have to find something else to boost in our weekly fiascos. We must admit that the best offer we have had since Saturday night was from the OST clan. Their intentions seem to be strictly disabourable. They think that for mere tainted money we would say mean things about those fine people the Val Norns. Besides what you are thinking, the pay isn't enough.

As we are wont (and who isn't) to do, we were walking through the upper campus one night recently. We heard the rustling of bushes, a terrified scream, a vicious smack, a heartfelt moan, and a delicious sigh. Then from behind said bushes emerged a triumphant Cesta dragging a sobbing cadet by his musette bag. Colorful "Civies".

Vern Waite (of padded shoulder fame) Now that he has gone we ought to mention him. With awe we hope that he could lick any two cadets. He probably meant Bill Sacks.

Ralph Frogley—(BYU's sweater boy)—Appreciating the fact that we are none too attractive, and our selection of clothes leaves something to be desired, we can look upon "The Frog" with admiration and envy. As one girl put it, "He's got something, and a whole closet full of them too."

In a recent "Downbeat" poll, T. Dorsey pulls down top honors for sweet bands, Charlie Spivak and Glen Miller following closely behind.

Two brand new members have been waxed by Ellington, the nation's most popular jazz composer. On one side that jump tune, "Johnny Come Lately," with a fast swing number, "Main Stem," packing the other side.

For you who have worn out those famous favorites which have been reported "out of stock" . . . Man y of them have been combined in a recently released album containing such goodies as "Yes Indeed," "Begin the Beguine" and "Tuxedo Junction" with the Maistris Shaw, Goodman, Miller and Dorsey.

Did you dig the jive version of Othello in the latest Mademoiselle? Dan Barley really gets his kicks in with that transposition of Shakespeare.

Dr J T H. Mire is working on a new jazz textbook that may add a new R. rhythm, to the proverbial three. It is to be entitled, "Let's Listen—A Treasury of American Music" and many schools have already asked for volumes for their libraries. Looks as if the schools are really getting in the swing of things.

As we arose from the grave with this in our hands we were halted by a lovely old lady who said, "I want to subscribe to the Y NEWS. Here's my mailing address and the money." Giving her a forged receipt we shipped happily off to Provo's largest bar. She was crazy to subscribe to this sheet anyway.

This 'n That

By Mave 'n Pat

We could call this column today "Stomping on 'The Grave,'" by Pat 'n Mave, but that wouldn't be very nice, would it?

Here we were—two simple BY cued, going to school, minding our own business, trying to make a place for ourselves in the world by writing a little column for the Y NEWS, when all of a sudden we seemed to be the inspiration for a bit of poetry. Thanks loads, fellows; it was grand—every minute of it. But we feel we must return the compliment, so:

Poem of the week:

Ode to Bill and Dave
Of all the boys we've ever seen,
Tudrig across the campus green,
Billy and Davey first took our eye
(Wished they send it back—it's hard to get by!)

We liked them from the very first—in tact, we still do,
I guess we're repulsive to them, just like we are to you.

But we'll get along, and manage somehow,
We've taken their slams gracefully up until now.

So go on writing columns; your poetry's allowed,
Because we always thought you were the cutest cadets in the crowd!

Anyway, you won't be here much longer to bother "The Thin" and "The Brat,"
Our good old Uncle Sammy's son taking care of that.

P. S. We're really not jealous of your column, Bill and Dave. We're green like this all the time.

Three somethings new have been added! Three girls sporting locks, via third finger, left hand, are Carol Beck, Rhea Robbins, and Florence Firmage!

Some gals have all the luck. Oh, well, we always did like our class rings, anyway.

Lost: One freshman class president last seen boarding a train headed for Ames, Iowa, with a nifty blue gown in his eye. We want to wish Dick Hales good luck; we're glad that if we couldn't get him the Navy could!

We're sure glad spring has finally come. It makes us want to don our hip boots and take a walk up and down Center street.

Thought for today: You think of one; we're tired.

The unnamed fellow (he probably prefers to remain that way) who wears the Scotch kilt. A rugged individualist, he belongs in Pershing square.

We thought we should say a few words on marriage. That's more than it deserves already. Congrats to Fulghum and McNeese—your asked for it.

As we arose from the grave with this in our hands we were halted by a lovely old lady who said, "I want to subscribe to the Y NEWS. Here's my mailing address and the money." Giving her a forged receipt we shipped happily off to Provo's largest bar. She was crazy to subscribe to this sheet anyway.

Well, that's all, the assembly is over. Reading time: 5 minutes.
Writing time: 10 minutes.

"The Pipes of Pan" Thrills Dancers at Gala Promenade Atmosphere Enchants 200 Guests

Surpassing all expectations with its delightful theme, "The Pipes of Pan," the annual Junior Promenade, top social function on the Y campus, thrilled promenaders last Saturday evening in the Joseph Smith ballroom.

Some 200 guests, including distinguished church authorities and Board of Trustees of the university and other special guests enjoyed the evening in the enchanting, "out-of-this-world" atmosphere of the "Pipes of Pan." The guests were welcomed in the lounge by a reception committee consisting of Elizabeth Sander and Vernon MacDonald of Heber, Dr. and Mrs. Franklin S. Harris, Dr. and Mrs. Wesley P. Lloyd, Mr. and Mrs. Ishbrand Sander of Heber, Neil Wellings, president of the junior class, and Elaine Todd, Decorations.

An impressive figure of the god Pan, stood before the huge east window of the ballroom, surrounded by a woodland setting with red and blue flood lights shooting up through the pink colored pine trees. The gilded letters of "The Pipes of Pan" glistered in pink and silver, and twinkling down the windowed drape opposite the window were massive leaves, shaded to carry out the pink and silver color scheme.

Artistic pink pillars covered with trailing vines with pink and silver leaves, formed a little alcove, from which the favors of choice toilet water were received. Refreshments were served in the banquet hall from a lace-covered table artistic with a bouquet of pink carnations and snapdragons, flanked by tall pink candles.

Promenade

Leading the promenade were chairman Elizabeth Sander and her partner Vernon MacDonald, junior class president Neil Wellings, and partner Elaine Todd. Following immediately was the junior valedictorian, after which, the "Pipes of Pan," composed especially for the occasion by Juan Thompson, former Y student, was sung by a double trio with violin accompaniment.

Members of the Prom committee included: Elizabeth Sander, Neil Wellings, Dorothy Snow, Carol Roberts, Barbara

Society... Vows Exchanged In California By Y Students

Two popular Y students were united in marriage last week when Beth Thine became the bride of Bill Gay, U.S. Marine corps, on Wednesday, February 23, at a lovely ceremony held at the home of the bride's parents in Los Angeles, California.

The bride attended the BYU for two years, and was a member of the OS Trovata social unit. Mr. Gay, a native of Provo, was a senior student when called into active service, and was a member of the Bricker social unit. He also acted as business manager of the Y NEWS during his last year here.

The young couple are arriving this week end in Provo for a few days visit with relatives and friends.

Brickers Celebrate After Junior Prom

Continuing the evening with celebration after the close of the Junior Prom last Saturday evening, members of the Bricker unit and their partners enjoyed a post-prom party at the Provo home of the bride.

Special guests of the affair were Edward Free and Russell Sheffield, former Brickers members now in the Navy. In charge of all arrangements was Wells Brockbank of Spanish Fork.

Next week, the unit members are planning a farewell for several of their men who will be leaving soon for medical school. Tentative plans call for an exclusive affair in Salt Lake city.

Alta Mitra Unit Holds Parties

A party was held by the Alta Mitra social unit at the home of Mrs. Barry Jensen. Betty Jayne acted as chairman, assisted by Annette Sandstrom and Madelyn Hatch.

A pot luck lunch was served, and a variety of games were played. Mrs. Ruth Peterson, former vice-president of the unit, was present.

On February 15 a party was given by the new members at the home of Margie Petty. Madelyn Hatch acted as chairman, with all the new girls assisting. Miss Vaudie Andrus, the alumni president, was guest of honor.

Marcia Greenhaw Reads "Pygmalion" To Mask Club

Marcia Greenhaw of Chicago, Illinois, read George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion" to a record audience in Mask Club Monday evening.

The play deals with the transformation of an ordinary "street flower girl" to a duchess through the work of Professor Higgins, a teacher of phonetics.

Miss Greenhaw is a sophomore and a speech major. Her partners are Captains and Mrs. Anthony Greenhaw of Chicago.

O.S. Gets Down To Business

The regular business meeting of the O.S. Trovata social unit was held last Thursday evening at the Joseph Smith building, with the president, Mickey Putnam leading the discussion of business items. Dorothy Lavey, social chairman, was appointed to plan for the next meeting.

A song practice followed the meeting with Mac Sevy directing.

By Ardath Lefler

Readers of the society page of the Y NEWS are invited to contribute news (especially concerning weddings or social gatherings of students or former students) to this page. Items must be taken or telephoned to Ardath Lefler, 284, not later than Monday of each week.

Fraternity Plans March Party

"The Idea of March" will be the theme of the Lambda Delta Sigma party which will be held Saturday night, March 4 at eight o'clock. The different chapters have been declared war for the evening and so the competition promises to be heated. All members are requested to be present to swell the ranks of their respective chapters.

It is a non-date affair according to Phil Robinson, chairman. His assistants are the various members of the executive council.

Fun Party Slated For Dramatists

Entertainment, games and refreshments with all the trimmings, are planned for the evening of the members of Theta Alpha Phi, dramatic fraternity, and special guests, to be held on Saturday, March 11 (date subject to change without notice) in the banquet hall of the Joseph Smith building.

Committee in charge of arrangements includes Dan Keeler and Irene Fuller, games and entertainments; and Kathleen Hied and Joy Swalberg, refreshments. On Thursday, March 9, Theta Alpha Phi will present another dramatic program on the "College Varieties" hour over radio station KOVO. The dramatic fraternity presents an outstanding program over the air the second Thursday of every month, and these programs are under the direction of Theta Helder, chairman; Dan Keeler, and Ruth England, "College Varieties" representatives.

American History Is Meeting Theme

American History was the theme of the monthly Lambda Delta religious meeting held last Sunday night. Each chapter presented a different phase of the theme.

Phi Chapter centered their skit around the "American Ballad" as recorded by Paul Robeson; Omega presented a topical scene from a trial for witches in 16th century days of the colonies; Alpha paid a tribute to Tom Paine as a leading figure in America's fight for freedom.

Phi honored George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, and Thomas Jefferson; Chi presented the symbolizing of our freedom through the statue of the Goddess of Liberty; and Upsilon portrayed several of the lives of women in the nation's history.

Civilian Comment:

Prom, Romance Fill Spring Air

From Trotters—to the committee—Our thanks for a lovely evening spent in an atmosphere of classic grace and beauty. . . . To the orchestra: Do you think a Junior Prom is the cat's paw? . . . In the receiving line: Handsome Neil Wellings, vivacious "Buffy" Sander, and the rest of the gang.

Quick recovery, Hal Dean—he wouldn't have wanted you to miss the Prom, would he? . . . This affair came on so suddenly that some of the fellows didn't have time to scrape together $3.00 and take the girl they'd been going practically steady with all year. Oh, well—the movie at the Strand was pretty good.

The latest addition to the list of Clarence (would-be Casanova) Clark seems to be freshman Margaret Friday. Saw them strolling in the spring air Tuesday evening.

One romance from last year that seems to feel that abstinence is no barrier to romance now that Bruce Reese is back.

Seemed good to see Air Cadet Dean Call back in Provo for the concert of his sister Rhoda Yawn on campus this week—Carol and Mrs. Call from Pocatello, justly proud parents.

Seen also at the concert were staidies Neil Wellings and Elaine Todd, Lyle Wildkinson and Margie Nelson. . . . Bonnie Lyman and Leo Vernon were back together again for the evening.

B. D. G. O. C. (best dressed girl on campus) this week—Carol Grandl. Sweaters and matching knee socks look smooth—and so did that red convertible.

Personality of the Week—Rhea Robbins: dunceness! . . . Barbara Sherry: cutie. . . . Mary Greenhaw: dramatically talented. . . . Julie Hansen: bleachy! . . . Jean Pilling: Frankly, she's appealing.

Upsilon Chapter Elects President

Lugene Waddopps of Lewisville, Idaho was elected president of the Upsilon Chapter of Lambda Delta Sigma at a supper-theatre party held by the chapter last week. Vice-president and secretary are Clara Reinisch, Green River, Wyo.; and Anita Hyatt, Joliet, Ill.

Preceding the elections, the girls enjoyed their supper, consisting of chili as the main dish. Then they adjourned to College Hall where a section had been reserved for them to see "Arsenic and Old Lace."

The committee in charge were Lugene Waddopps, Madelyn Hatch, Beth Mortensen, Anita Hyatt, Mary Phillips, and Clara Reinisch. Mrs. Russell Swenson, sponsor of the chapter assisted.

BYU Men at War

By Miriam Young

Practically every other columnist in this paper includes a poem in their column each week, and I, not wanting to be different, made my attempts too. First I tried rhyming sentences, but no luck, then I tried blank verse (no remarks) and still no luck. Oh well, some can do it, and then there's me.

Home for a short stay we have Dallas Young, Marcell Chatterton, Keith Johnson, from Colorado Springs; Blaine Lemmon, Wayne Viehwig, Leland Baxter, Bruce Reese, Russell Sheffield, and Lee Moulton from Albuquerque; and Ensign David Swenson.

Staff Sergeant Albert H. Wright, former student here, is now serving with the U. S. Army Air Corps stationed at Annette Island Landing Field near Ketchikan, Alaska. Among the many interesting things Sergeant Wright has done during his assignment there is visit the Indian village on the island, and take part in many of their celebrations.

From Scott Field, Illinois we have news concerning Pvt. Alpline Shirts who is in the Air Corps and at the present time is studying radio theory and radio code. Alpline was a student here last year.

Among our visitors here on the campus last week was Second Lieutenant Ted Tuttle. Ted is in the Marine Corps and has just finished advanced officer's training before coming to Utah for a short visit. His next station is San Diego. While here at school, he was affiliated with Delta Phi, Lambda Delta Sigma, Alpha Kappa Phi, and Blue Key.

Brothers from Boise, Idaho, Lt. Lloyd W. Brown and A/c Kenneth H. Brown, both in the Army Air Corps. Lloyd is stationed at Drew Field, Tampa, Florida and Kenneth is stationed at Carlsbad, New Mexico, and will be graduated there as a second lieutenant around April 1.

Pfc. Cliff Hinrichsen is now attending O.C.S. at Quantico, Va. after having finished his boot training on Parris Island. Cliff and his wife are happy to report that they occasionally see other old Y friends. Among them, Wes and -Nathale Bowers, Bill Gay, Duard Millett, Frank and Lee Allen, and many more.

From Australia comes word of the graduation of Thornton Y. Booth from O.C.S. Upon completion of this phase of training, Thornton was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Infantry of the U. S. Army. Lt. Booth has been stationed overseas for the past two years, much of the time spent in active combat, before being sent to O.C.S. He graduated from the Y in 1941 and was affiliated with the Brigadier social unit and Blue Key. He also edited the Y NEWS his senior year.

Several of our former students have now finished their pre-flight training at Santa Ana and have been sent to more advanced training centers for further training in the U.S. Army Air Corps. At Lancaster, California, we have LaMar Buckner, Ariel Bean, Gene Parker, Ray Christopherson, and Floyd Anderson. Preston Brimhall and Earl Callahan went to Minter Field to join Weston Brown and Bert Miller who are now in the upper class there. It sounds like a Y reunion, doesn't it?

Last but not least, we have an item concerning Captain Marion Bandy who is now Adjutant of the Quartermaster Corps depot at Hill Field, near Ogden. Captain Bandy received his commission as second lieutenant at Fort Warren, Wyoming in 1942. He graduated from here in 1939 and was a member of Alpha Kappa Psi.

Coed Team Wins Two Games From U Coeds

Although the masculine Cougar five did not oppose the University of Utah this year in basketball, an unofficial girls' basketball team from BYU carried the blue and white to two successive victories over an unofficial girls' team from Utah.

Playing the first game in Salt Lake City, the Y girls romped over the Utahans to the tune of 50 to 47.

The second game was played in Provo in the Women's gym and the Y team was again victorious 44-36.

The team that represented BYU was composed of the following girls: Laurine Mickelsen, Emma Ullock, Marjorie Lindstrom, Beth Wright, Edna Holt, Marian Whitely, Nancy Cox, and Grace Thibault. They were coached by Miss Holbrook.

War Bond Will be Contest Prize

For the second successive year, Lt. Wendell Anderson of Logan will offer a $25 war bond to the winner of an oratorical contest on the topic "Vastly Views to Win the Post War Peace," according to Dr. T. Earl Pardee, chairman of the speech department.

The contest will be held in each of the three Utah schools, and a bond will be awarded to the winner of each school.

Last year Rosemary Spears of Provo won the contest on this campus.

Lt. Anderson is the son of Mrs. Nikes Anderson of Logan. The contest will be held in the latter part of March, according to Dr. Pardee.

Not to be outdone by the masculine athletes left on the campus, feminine cage teams began their intramural basketball tournament on February 3 when Val Norn and Alta Mitra played to a bloodless tie.

The first quarter found both teams with a score of 4. At the half, the whistle blew just as Alta Mitra turned the score to 23 against Val Norn's 21. The third quarter ended with a score of 35-25. The final quarter ended with a score of 35-35, necessitating the playing of another game on Tuesday night.

Val Norn boasts a team that has plenty of rugged speed. The players, besides Captain Mabel Stewart, are: Ellen Ashworth, Marge Hart, Margaret Hales, Colleen Daniels, Miriam Young, Gloria Watts, and Val Dean Rice.

Alta Mitra, too, has a hard-fighting team, consisting of: Mildred Liston, Margie Johnson, Olive Fowles, Jean Sandstrom, Kathleen Layton and Betty Jayne Wood.

Scheduled for the same night as the Val Norn-Alta Mitra game was a game between teams coached by Helen Chapman and Ardella Christensen. Helen Chapman's team won by a default.

Handicapped by a staggering list of absences who were on the sick list, Val Norn lost to a fast, clean-playing Alta Mitra team on Tuesday night when the two teams met to play off their tie. The game was fast, but definitely one-sided, as Mildred Liston and Marge Johnson led the Alta Mitra scoring spree for a 37-13 victory over the Val Norns.

High-point woman of the evening was Marge Johnson for Alta Mitra with 16 counters, followed closely by her teammate, Mildred Liston with 12. Lile Stewart did most of the scoring for Val Norn.

It is indeed unfortunate that the Val Norns were unable to place their regular sextet on the floor; the advantages would have been distributed a little more evenly.

However, we are definitely looking forward to seeing the capable Alta Mitra six in action again. They are a fast, smooth aggregation, and Madeira Hatch is one of the most useful guards we have been in some time.

The second game of the evening was to have been played between the Cesta Tite and Fidelas social units, and should have been an interesting encounter. However, Cesta Tite failed to show up, so the game was forfeited to the Fidelas.

Basketball fans will be interested in watching the games that will follow in the women's intramural series.

Notices of when the games will be played are posted in the women's gym.

Future games will see Alta Mitra and Fidelas vying for honors, with several strong independent teams also in the running.
